

DESCRIBING BOOKS

1. A wonderful book. So _____ it brought tears to my eyes!
2. Rather _____ I had to make a real effort to finish it.
3. A _____ story. I was hooked from the very first page.
4. A light but _____ novel, perfect for beach reading.
5. The plot was _____. It was impossible to predict how it would end.
6. The characters were totally _____ I couldn't take any of them seriously.
7. A well-written novel, but so _____ it made me feel almost suicidal.
8. A _____ novel, only suitable for Barbara Cartland or Daniele Steele fans.

DESCRIBING MOVIES

1. A _____ movie that raised many interesting questions.
2. A _____ story which jumps from past to present and back again at breakneck speed.
3. A _____ movie. It had me in stitches for almost two hours.
4. A truly _____ film. It really sent shivers down my spine.
5. It's exciting and _____, full of car chases and gun fights. You won't fall asleep!
6. The ending is so _____ that I could have told you who the murderer was after just 10 minutes.
7. The final scene is so _____ that it lingered in my memory long after I'd finished watching it.
8. Critics loved it, but I don't see what all the fuss is about. Totally _____

BOOKWORM OR FILM BUFF?

If you are a bookworm, tell your partner about a book...

- ... you feel you should have read but haven't.
- ... you have read but can't remember anything about.
- ... you decided to read after seeing the film.
- ... so gripping that you couldn't put it down.
- ... that everybody liked but you couldn't finish.

If you are a film buff, tell your partner about a film...

- ... that you'd like to have seen but haven't.
- ... that you have seen but can't remember anything about.
- ... that you saw after reading the book.
- ... so compelling that you've seen it more than once.
- ... that everybody liked but you couldn't finish watching.